Driving into Town

I drove through the Town

With my windows wound down.

My music blared loud

As I steered through the crowd.

Then I drove home

To spend the night all alone!